I left you a message at work but you probably didn't get it yet. The check has been deposited so confirm that when you can. What is going on with Panayis? The messages seem to be getting more hostile or is that just my interpretation? Let's have a talk soon (especially before you go to New York if you're going). Also, what is Vasilis' mobile number? The number I have doesn't seem to be working. You just sent a message. Are you there?

I know you called me the other day, but was running like crazy throughout the weekend. What do you think about the developments with Panayis?
